strong as it ever was is the general belief here.

The Cook county grand jury has promised to further purge the sport of the pollution into which gamblers hurried it. Jean Doube, said to be a friend of Hal Chase; Hughie Jennings, manager of the Detroit Tigers, and John J. McGraw have been summoned to testify Tuesday.

The sport is getting another cleaning in another source. Chicago fans and business men have started a movement to have a big celebration here to honor the members of the White Sox team who remained square, and their owner, Charles Comiskey, who sacrificed almost half a million dollars' worth of players for the sake of clean sport.

Chicago wants to do something for Comiskey and the loyal remnant of his great team, but more than that, Chicago wants to re-establish the faith of her boys in clean sport and take away the sting that has entered the lives of the lads who held up Cicotte and Jackson and the others as models.

FOUR SOX FIGHT CHARGES.

George Weaver, McMullen, Charles Risberg and Oscar Felch, four of the eight Sox players against whom true bills have been voted, began their fight for vindication and reinstatement today. They have retained Thomas D. Nash to defend them. Nash announced today that he would demand an immediate trial.

Chief Justice McDonald issued an order yesterday changing the grand jury into a special inquisitorial body. Its regular term expired on Friday.

In addition to Dubuc, McGraw and Jennings, others to be heard this week are: Benny Kai, of New York; Fred Toney, of New York; and Arthur Fletcher, of Philadelphia.

TO PROBE DOYLE'S BETS.

Dubuc's testimony, it is believed,

Says Congress Should Make Baseball Bribery Felony to Protect Sport

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—"We have now discovered that baseball games have been bought and sold by unscrupulous gamblers and baseball players," declares Assistant State's Attorney Replegle, adviser to the grand jury. "There must be no repetition of this scandal."

"Congress should pass an act making it a felony by any one to offer a bribe or a gratuity to any baseball player playing interstate baseball, to play our national game other than on its merits; also making it a felony for any such player to accept such a bribe or gratuity."

"Let Congress act."

will deal with an alleged exchange of telegrams between the witness and Hal Chase. Larry Doyle will also be a probable witness. He will be asked to tell about the bets he made with Chase on the last world's series.

The grand jury this week will also delve into evidence secured in New York by State's Attorney Hoyne, who says that at least six of the 1920 Sox were "fixed" and that plans had been made to "fix" the coming world's series.

John J. (Sport) Sullivan, of Boston, who was mentioned in the confessions of some of the indicted players, is expected here to tell the grand jury who was the "master mind" behind the plot to "throw" the 1919 world's series. He has stated in Boston that he will leave there tomorrow night to come to Chicago and "tell the whole history of the deal and name the man whose money paid off the crooked players."

DR. VAN SCHAICK DENIES HE PLANS QUITTING CITY

John Van Schaick, former president of the Board of Education, will continue to make Washington his permanent home. Returning from a vacation in Cobleskill, N. Y., Mr. Van Schaick yesterday declared rumors that he would discontinue his residence were without foundation.

Mr. Van Schaick will devote his time to writing a war book, delivering lectures in Washington and near-by cities.

BORAH TO WAR ON ANY LEAGUE

Nothing But Total Rejection of Covenant Will Satisfy
Him, He Says.

If any effort is made by anyone, no matter who, to put over a League of Nations in the next session of Congress, Senator Borah will fight it with all his strength. This significant statement was made by the Senator today.

Efforts by the Republican National Committee to detail him to speaking engagements indiscriminately throughout the country were immediately responsible for his decision not to participate in the campaign under auspices of the committee.

"My telegram to the national headquarters was prompted by their announcement that I would speak on such and such a date in St. Louis," said the senator.

"I will speak where I like, and upon what I like to speak. I shall begin tomorrow night in Danbury, Conn., in behalf of Senator Brandegee."

"Will there be any change in the text of your speeches?" he was asked.

"SPEAKS STRATEGIC SPOTS."

"I will speak just as I have been speaking—against the League," he replied. "And in making up my itinerary I will be actuated by the desire of getting into the territory where the most effective blows can be delivered against the League."

In the speech at Danbury tomorrow night, Senator Borah will define what, in his judgment, is and should be the attitude of the Republican party toward the League.

The speech will be one of three Borah will deliver in Connecticut in behalf of the re-election of Senator Brandegee, another of the "irreconcilables." The other addresses will be at New Haven on Wednesday and Bridgeport on Thursday.

MAY ALSO HELP MOSES.

Senator Borah may also enter New Hampshire to urge the re-election of Senator George H. Moses, of that State, who is also an "irreconcilable."

Questioned as to the extent he was influenced by the proposed International Court in his decision not to speak under direction of the National Committee, the Senator was silent.

Indication of Senator Hiram Johnson's interest in the Borah development was shown today when the Senator wired his Washington office for all the details.

"It is not surprising that dissensions should rend the political atmosphere at this stage of the campaign," said Senator Howard Sutherland, Republican, of West Virginia, today. "Senator Harding has already strongly defined his position, and in the end it will be seen that he and Senator Borah are not very far apart."

MEN OF DEEP CONVICTION.

"Senator Borah is a man of deep convictions on public questions and is a profound student of them at all times. If he should determine to quit the stump entirely at this time, we should miss him greatly. I am delighted to hear that he will continue his efforts for his party in his own way and at places selected by himself."

Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, leader of the Administration Senators in the treaty fight, was a visitor to the Capital yesterday. He declared a large number of "pro-League Republicans in the West are being won over to Governor Cox, and the Democratic party as a result of Senator Harding's position on the League."

"Sentiment in the West and Middle West is strongly for the League as a means of preserving world peace," Senator Hitchcock said. "Governor Cox has made a favorable impression everywhere he has spoken. Many Republicans will vote for him because they realize if Senator Harding had his way the League would be scrapped."

Senator Hitchcock said "church people" in Western States were supporting the League and Governor Cox.

Jimmy and His War Bride

Copyright, 1920, International Feature Service, Inc.

Our hero, realizing that he can't shake his bride, tries to make the best of a bad job. He stages a thrilling tableau entitled "Don't Bust the Heart of the World," with his bride as the Angel of Peace. But she crabs the scene by appearing with a pair of boxing gloves and a big club. Article X also gets it all wrong. It was tough! How can you give a serious show when the whole audience is laughing? Look for the next installment. We hate to brag, but it's simply—

SANDY SPRING VERDICTS NEAR

Third and Last of Bandit Suspects to Be Placed on Trial Tomorrow.

FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 3.—Joseph Thomas Penderghast, the third man to be tried here on charges of killing Francis M. Hollowell and looting the First National Bank of Sandy Springs, will be brought before Judge Hammond Erner and Associate Judges Glenn H. Worthington and Edward C. Peter at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in circuit court here.

This will wind up the hearings, and afterward the judges will announce their decision in the three cases.

The trial of John W. Mitchell came to an end Friday night after two days' legal battle, when sentence, as in the case of Clarence J. Adams, the third of the accused bandits, was reserved until the hearing of the Penderghast case.

ANOTHER ALIBI DEFENSE.

Penderghast also will try to set up an alibi, introducing witnesses to testify that he was at the bedside of his mother, who was ill at a Philadelphia Hospital on April 26, last. He is represented by Jerry J. Santry, of Baltimore.

It is expected Penderghast's trial will end by Wednesday.

States Attorney Thomas L. Dawson, of Montgomery County, who with State's Attorney Aaron Anders, of this county, has prosecuted Adams and Mitchell, today declared the State had shattered the alibi of the two men and expects the court to render a verdict of first degree murder with the imposition of the death penalty.

Although sentiment is strong against the prisoners, it is not believed they will be given the death penalty, as the State had not established who fired the shot which killed Mr. Hollowell.

GUARD AGAINST DELIVERY.

While rumors have been current that should the prisoners be convicted an attempt would be made by their confederates to deliver them from the jail here, the authorities are taking every precaution against such a move.

The jail has been closely guarded by policemen from both Frederick and Montgomery counties, who have within reach high-powered rifles and automatic revolvers. The grounds around the jail also are being patrolled by an armed guard.

None of the prisoners slept well last night. Adams and Mitchell were particularly restless. Adams fears his fate, believing he will be convicted and hanged. He was protesting his innocence in his cell last night, accusing Mitchell of being responsible for his trouble.

"Oh, shut up!" shouted Mitchell from an adjoining cell. "I have troubles enough of my own."

GIRL STUDENTS AT TRIAL.

One of the features of the trial of the alleged bank robbers has been the keen interest taken in the proceedings by girl students of law from the Hood College and the Frederick High School, who have been permitted to attend the daily sessions.

Mitchell has probably the longest criminal record of the three men. He was arrested in New York after a flat encounter with Detectives Bart Drury and Charles Schaus and Edward Grogan, of the Pinkertons, in connection with the theft of more than $75,000 worth of gems from the jewelry shop of James R. Arminger, in Baltimore, for which he stands indicted.

Following his capture by the New York detectives, Mitchell was identified by Asa Stabler, president of the First National Bank of Sandy Springs, as being one of the bandits who looted the bank and killed Mr. Hollowell. He admitted being a professional criminal, but claimed he was in Providence, R. I., the day of the crime at Sandy Springs.

ADAMS A WASTREL.

Adams, a former stock broker, who admitted squandering more than $200,000, received from his father's estate, is married and is the father of twins, Ruth and John Adams, thirteen years old, who took the witness stand and testified he was at their home in Camden and later accompanied them to Philadelphia on April 26 last.

PENWOMEN WILL BE KEITH THEATER GUESTS

Members of the national executive board of the League of American Penwomen will be guests of the management at Keith's Theater tomorrow night, when they will attend the performance to honor Mrs. Carrie Jacobs-Bond, the composer, who will appear on Keith's program during the week.

Mrs. Bond is a member of the league. Mrs. William Atherton Du Pay, national president, will present Mrs. Bond with a floral offering in the name of the organization.

mobiles possible by cutting the price of steel.

Light, cheap cars sell for 50 to 75 cents a pound. Medium priced cars sell for about $1 a pound. High priced, heavy cars, for about $2 a pound.

The steel used in automobiles, including the high priced special forged steel does not average 10 cents a pound. How much would you have to cut off of 10 cents a pound for steel in order to cut in two the price of an automobile that cost $2 a pound?

In cutting down the price of anything, automobiles, potatoes, ladies' dresses, more than one cut is necessary. Labor among other things will have to bear its share, although to make labor responsible for all high costs would be as preposterous as trying to make steel at 10 cents a pound responsible for the price of automobiles at $2 a pound.

The relentless laws of political economy are working only too efficiently to make labor bear its share. The process is simple. A hundred thousand men find themselves out of work suddenly. They are willing to take less to find a job, and those that already have jobs are willing to take less to avoid losing them.

In one city two thousand "garage helpers" are discharged at once because they ask for more money. The garage keepers decided that they will give up cleaning cars and let the owner do his own cleaning.

That means that two thousand more men must look around for work. This is a good time for the man who is working at fairly satisfactory pay to show by the kind of work he does that he is the kind of man to be kept.

At the present rate there will be several million men out of work in this country in a few months. Not a good thing for them and a worse thing for the prosperous class interested in stability, law and order.

When your automobile is going down hill it is dangerous to let it get going too fast. The brakes may not work when you decide to stop. So it is when employment begins going down hill—look out for a bump.

An able New York banker, M. H. Howell, of the Chase National Bank, renders assistance to other business men in the city "to protect wages" (as balance sheets of the city pay) will permit.

Mr. Howell tells that they must see to it that they come down AFTER the wages, the wages of living. Wise employers will read his article in the Credit Monthly, organ of the National Association of Credit Men.

POLICEMAN FALLS DEAD ACROSS SUICIDE SLAYER

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 3.—Shocked at the sight of a murder and suicide, Policeman Pat Michael Egan dropped dead of heart disease yesterday over the body of Kenneth Tucker, who had just killed himself after slaying his wife, Hattie Tucker.

Policeman Egan was called in by the neighbors of the Tuckers, who were engaged in a violent quarrel. Just as the officer started up the steps, Tucker shot his wife and turned the revolver on himself. Egan then toppled over.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment
Given by One Who Had It

In the Spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-acute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried every remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, and even bedridden with rheumatism, some of them 70 to 80 years old, and results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from such forms of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent, simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of your rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are positively satisfied to send it. Don't that fair? Why suffer any longer when relief is thus offered you free? Write today.
